Changes to livestreaming of meetings

West Coast Regional Council is making changes to the way meetings are livestreamed.

Currently all Council and committee meetings are run with Zoom video conferencing and use Facebook as the platform for livestreaming, says Office of the Chief Executive Group Manager Jo Field.

“We will continue to use Zoom for future meetings but are moving the live streaming platform to our YouTube channel.

“Council wants to ensure smooth, uninterrupted viewing for those watching online and we think YouTube is better suited to that.”

The handle for the WCRC YouTube channel is:

There will be a link to the livestream put on Council’s Facebook page on 18 March for the Risk & Assurance, Corporate Services and Operations committee meetings taking place that day.

The shift in livestreaming platforms is part of wider work Council is doing to improve online viewing quality of Council and committee meetings.
